Mead of Senate
Inquiry Committee
Wants High Ranking
Officers Disciplined

By John W. Henderson
WASHINGTON, July 23—(P)—Maj. Gen. Alden H. Mead testified today that defective shells killed American soldiers who fired them during the Battle of the Bulge but said "we don't know whose shells went bad."

Waitt was a witness in the Senate War Investigating Committee hearing on war profits of a midwest munitions combine. He had just been questioned about a gay New York party he attended during war time as a guest of Murray Garsson, high official of the combine. Waitt said he traveled to the party at government expense, but said he had transacted official business during this trip.

By John W. Henderson
WASHINGTON, July 23—(P)—Chairman Mead (D-NY) of the Senate War Investigating committee demanded today that the War Department "discipline" high-ranking army officers in the Garsson munitions case. He specified those shown to have travelled on official military orders during wartime to a gay wedding party for the daughter of a munitions maker.

Mead's demand came as the committee received official war department records that travel orders, entitling them to ride at government expense with per diem allowances, had been issued for six officers to allow them to be in New York at the time of Natalie Garsson's wedding.

The investigation of the munitions work of the Garsson brothers, Henry and Murray, took another turn, with red-haired Jean Bates, former secretary of the munitions makers' Washington office on the stand.

She testified that Henry Garsson and Joseph Freeman, Washington office manager for the Garssons, had asked her to be "hazy" in testifying before the committee. She said she met their proposal with a refusal to "perjure myself."

Among Those Listed
Among the army officers listed in the war department travel orders were Brig. Gen. Paul X. English, former head of the chemical warfare service's procurement division, and Maj. Gen. Alden H. Mead, its present chief. The orders read that their presence in New York was "necessary for military service." English has since left active military duty.

Presentation of the records followed introduction of copies of records of the Hotel Pierre in New York, where the wedding was held January 2, 1944, showing that Murray Garsson, father of Natalie, had footed the hotel bills for the officers.

A series of pictures taken at the wedding party was introduced—among them one of Rep. May, (D-Ky.) with the arms of Muriel Garsson Herman, Natalie's sister—around his neck.

Introduction of Hotel Bill
A copy of May's hotel bill was also introduced. It was for $25.95 and bore an erasure—"Paid" notation. An item of the same amount, marked "bad debt" was shown to have been included in the account squared by Murray Garsson.

Senator Knowland (R-Cal.) commented that it "appeared" May's hotel bill had gone unpaid until Garsson settled his account. The committee ordered its investigators to obtain records on whether the government paid the per diem allowance to the officers on the strength of the travel allowances.

Mrs. Bates testified she met Henry Garsson and Freeman at Freeman's home.

Appealed to Her
She said that Freeman had appealed to her to consider the fact that his wife was soon to have a baby.

"Just think of me being in jail," she quoted him as saying, "and her having a baby."

Mrs. Bates added that Freeman "patted me on the arms a couple of times and chuckled me under the chin."

The men told her, she said, that what she had told a committee investigator "wouldn't hold any water," but that her testimony "under oath would really count."

In ordering further war department records, Mead said the department "ought to be quick about turning them up. Then he added that it should also be quick to see that the "proper discipline" was meted out to the officers.

"It is important in time of war, when we are ordering troops to jump off landing boats, that there is no encouragement of this kind of extravagance," he declared.

Among those shown to have received war department orders was Albert Jacobson, legal consultant in chemical warfare service, and key witness in the committee's inquiry.

Pettis County Must Vote on Combination

Recorder of Deeds
And Circuit Clerk's Offices Involved

JEFFERSON CITY, July 23—(P)—All third class counties in Missouri must decide in the November general election whether the offices of circuit clerk and recorder of deeds shall be combined, Attorney General J. E. Taylor ruled today.

The opinion affecting the 78 third class counties was given at the request of Marshall Craig of Charleston, an attorney in Mississippi county where changes brought about by the 1945 constitution and more recent legislative action have caused confusion.

The attorney general's opinion held that Mississippi county must hold the election like other third class counties but in accordance with its previous action the offices remain combined from 1947 to 1950. At the end of that time the offices would be combined or separated in accordance with results of the election this fall.

Pettis county is classed as a third class county and the vote will be up to the people of this county as to whether the two offices should be combined. At present they are separate. Bryan Howe is the circuit clerk and John Ryan the recorder of deeds. Both men are running for reelection.

Should the offices be combined then the duties of the recorder of deeds become part of the circuit clerk's work.

At present the office of recorder of deeds is on the first floor of the court house and the circuit clerk's office is on the third floor of the court house.

Atomic Bomb Explosion on Wednesday

Seventy-five Ships
Are All Ready
In Bikini Lagoon

By the Associated Press
Barring last minute changes, the earth's fifth atomic bomb explosion will occur at 8:35 a. m. Thursday, July 25, Bikini Time.

That will be 4:35 p. m. on Wednesday, Eastern Standard Time.

A forecast of good weather gave promise the program will be carried out as planned.

Seventy-five ships in Bikini Lagoon are ready. Near the detonation center are the battleship Arkansas and the carrier Saratoga. Next is the battleship New York, with four landing craft behind her.

About a dozen miles away will be the observers, army and navy men, scientists, the working newspapermen and notables.

Drone planes with scientific instruments will fly through the water plume. Other airplanes will be in the immediate vicinity.

Speedboats will be ready to dash through the lagoon before radio-activity diffuses. Others will wait for radio-activity to subside—perhaps five days.

By Elton C. Fav

ABOARD THE USS MT. McKINLEY, July 23—(P)—Good weather was forecast today for Thursday (Wednesday, U. S. Time) when the first atomic bomb ever touched off below water surfaces 75 ships to man-made pressures heretofore undreamed of on earth.

As an "inter-tropical front" moved off 100 miles to the south, carrying with it the clouds that have hung heavily over Bikini, scientists made up a pool and guessed how many of those 75 ships will perish in the lagoon.

Associated Press science writer Edward Blakeslee reported from the Appalachian that these guesses were not being given out by one scientist said the shock would be 100 times greater than that from the air blast July 1.

Opinions Divided
The scientists were divided. Blakeslee added, on how much of the bomb's awesome power will go into water and how much into the air.

The guesses ranged from 50 per cent of the power entering the water to possibly 90 per cent of the total nuclear energy released. If the latter figure proves correct the damage to target ships should be terrific.

Dr. R. A. Sawyer, chief of the scientific staff, said there probably would be no flash of light visible in daylight from the underwater burst, and no goggles would be needed.

Instead, he continued, a dome of water half a mile wide should rise above the explosion. The dome would be pierced by a water spout going up two or three miles high.

Forecasters believed that "operational weather" would be on hand for the test Thursday. A broken cloud cover will allow the detonation to be carried out on schedule.

Winds Are Needed

Bomb testers do not need the almost perfect conditions required for the air drop but they do demand winds up to 20,000 feet blowing from the east to carry away contaminated spray or rain.

A reasonably clear spot in the sky also is needed to allow a photographic recording of the explosion and weather good enough for air force operation.

It was disclosed that four men were exposed to radioactivity from two to four times beyond the safety limit in the first test but all are recovering. One was exposed in a plane which drew too near the atomic cloud, another was exposed on the Japanese cruiser Sakawa and two others stayed too long on radio-active ships.

Missing Woman In Oklahoma

BONNER SPRINGS, Kas., July 23—(P)—Mrs. Emily Lambert, the pastor's wife who disappeared while her husband conducted church services and left a farewell note to read among the church announcements, telephoned a niece in Kansas City this morning from Tulsa, Okla. It was the first word relatives had had from her since her unexpected departure Sunday night.

Rev. John Paul Lambert said his niece, Mrs. Dorothy Dudley, had informed him of the telephone call from his wife. Mrs. Lambert told her niece she was sorry she had "caused so much trouble," but insisted she did not want to return home, Lambert said. He added that she said she was leaving for Houston, Texas, to visit a relative there.

Mrs. Lambert had been emotionally upset since her son's death with the Marines on Okinawa, her husband said. He said he intended to contact her when she reached Houston and try to arrange a meeting.

Near Epidemic Of Polio Cases

JEFFERSON CITY, July 23—(P)—The State health department reports that infantile paralysis has reached near epidemic proportions across Southern Missouri.

Dr. John W. Williams, Jr., said 64 cases had been reported to the health department in the first two weeks of July. This figure does not include cases in the last week.

Dr. Williams predicted the three-year cycle of the disease would reach a peak this year.

Raymond Fetters, city sanitary officer, and Miss Reba Gum, county health nurse, said today they have had no report of any case of infantile paralysis in city or county.

Centers of greatest incidence are in the metropolitan areas of Kansas City and St. Louis, and in Laclede and Pulaski counties. Incomplete reports show 21 cases and two deaths in the Kansas City area. No cases have been reported north of the Missouri river.

Dr. Williams said the age of the victims ranged from four months to 40 years, with the largest number children under 10 years. He said the disease took its heaviest toll in hot weather and health authorities might expect a continuation until the first half of September.

Pulaski county reported five cases and Laclede county's seat of Lebanon eight cases by mid-July.

KANSAS CITY, July 23—(P)—Drastic curtailment of public gatherings of children was put in effect here today as Dr. Hugh L. Dwyer, city health director, ordered the closing of all swimming and wading pools and a virtual shutdown of the summer playground program in an effort to curb the increase of infantile paralysis.

Two new cases were reported in the city today, bringing the total number of cases reported in the city this year to 19, more than twice as many as have been reported at this time in any year since 1928.

Municipal band concerts and community sings were also ordered cancelled by Dwyer.

Taps

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 23—(P)—"Every night at five minutes till nine, my husband turned on the news program," said Mrs. Lilly Darlick, 47, of Connelville, seeking a divorce. "That was the signal for me and the children to go to bed. We had to be in bed by the time the five-minute program was over." Judge F. John Morrow granted the divorce.

Early Graduate Of Stephens College Dies

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 23—(P)—Mrs. Doris Belle Newlee, 89, believed to be the oldest graduate of Stephens college in Columbia, Mo., died today. She was graduated from the college in 1875. Mrs. Newlee lived in Liberty, Mo., for 77 years, where her father, Madison Miller, was the first mayor.

41 Dead, 52 Missing, In Palestine

Blasting of Hotel Was One of the Worst Outrages

JERUSALEM, July 23—(P)—A message in Hebrew and signed by the illegal Irgun Zvai Leumi underground organization asserted tonight that the King David hotel was bombed by "soldiers" of that group.

The message was handed to the Associated Press by an unidentified messenger boy. It asserted that the loss of life in the terrorist attack yesterday was caused "by the British themselves, who paid no attention to warnings."

LONDON, July 23—(P)—Prime Minister Attlee told the House of Commons today that "of all the outrages in Palestine, many and horrible in the first few months," the blasting of the King David hotel in Jerusalem yesterday was the worst.

Attlee said his latest figures for "this insane act of terrorism" were 41 dead, 52 missing and 53 injured. (Dispatches from Jerusalem said 48 were known dead and 50 were unaccounted for.)

The prime minister said all available information was to the effect the perpetrators of the crime were Jews.

"As this House knows," Attlee continued, "his majesty's government are at this moment in consultation with the government of the United States with a view to arriving at proposals for a just settlement of the Palestine problem, which will be placed before the representatives of both Arabs and Jews."

Will Find Solution
"His Majesty's government has stated and stated again that they will not be diverted by acts of violence in their search for a just and final solution of this problem."

The bombing of British Military headquarters in Jerusalem yesterday appeared today to have destroyed virtually all possibility of early implementation of recent proposals for the admission of 100,000 European Jews to Palestine.

A highly placed source said that consideration of dispatching military reinforcements to Palestine would be a cabinet matter and that any final decision for sending additional British troops would be on the highest level.

Possibility of More Bread and Beer

WASHINGTON, July 23—(P)—Prospective record-smashing crops of corn and wheat raised the possibility today of white bread, larger loaves and, perhaps, more beer, once the harvests are in.

At the same time the bumper crop outlook put pressure on government officials to decide soon whether to resume buying of grain for famine relief.

An agriculture department official close to policy making told a reporter it is possible there may be some easing of domestic restrictions on consumption of grains if the excellent crop prospects are realized.

WASHINGTON, July 23—(P)—Senator Overton (D-La.) predicted today that President Truman would sign two bills authorizing water projects costing up to $2,000,000,000.

"We feel satisfied that the President will approve the legislation," Overton told reporters.

Bank Robbers' 'Vacation' Ends in Death

Had Posed as Brothers at Ozarks Resort

OSCEOLA, Mo., July 23—(P)—A straight-shooting sheriff and his deputy ended an "Ozarks vacation" for two bandits near here yesterday less than 30 minutes after the Humansville, Mo., bank was robbed.

Sheriff Logan Peery and Deputy J. E. Kincaid caught the pair changing license plates in a brush-fringed country lane and killed both of them in a brisk gun battle. From Social Security and draft cards found on them, they were identified as Philip Joseph Cronin, 45, of Lawrence, Essex county, Massachusetts, and Bill Frizzell, address unknown. Will Reynolds, resort operator, said they had posed as brothers named "Drum" at his place where they had spent two weeks with two women—one red-haired and the other a brunette.

"They were very handy with pistols," Reynolds recalled. "Much of their time was spent at shooting at sticks in the river."

Pick Up Women
A few hours after they had been slain a red-haired woman was picked up at Pittsburg, Kas., by police who intercepted a Nevada, Mo., taxicab in which she was a passenger. Police chief Tom Stowers at Pittsburg said she had admitted being with the two gunmen earlier and gave the name of "Drum." Officers believed the brunette also was somewhere in southeast Kansas.

Peery and Kincaid spotted the bandits soon after giving chase. As they pulled up behind their car, the sheriff stepped out with a revolver drawn and Kincaid followed with a high-powered rifle. The gunmen ran around the car, one firing twice. The one identified as Frizzell was killed by Kincaid as he seized an automatic pistol from the car and fired. Peery headed up over the hood.

In their car was found $4,700 and a rental slip for a car, issued at Hartford, Conn., and answering the description of the one they were driving. Whether all the money had been taken from the Humansville bank could not be determined until a more careful check. O. E. Simms, cashier of the bank, roughly estimated the loot at "well over $1,000."

Edwin W. Mills, St. Clair county prosecuting attorney, said today the cashier had determined that $5,600 was taken in the bank robbery. This would leave $900 unaccounted for.

Dwight Brantley, FBI agent in Kansas City, said Cronin, who also used the names of Moulton, Fulton, Holton and Marshall, was charged with violating the white slave act in a complaint filed in Boston, Mass., March 26.

Woman Is a Minor

The woman involved in the complaint, a minor, is the red-haired girl arrested in Pittsburg, Brantley said and is now in custody at Osceola.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation sent the pair's finger prints to Washington for checking.

State Highway Patrolmen W. L. Wallis and E. B. Barnum said the men's description answered that of a pair who obtained $700 in the holdup of a tavern in Springfield, Mo., last week.

The bandits entered the bank at Humansville, 20 miles south of Osceola, at 1:20 p. m.

Simms said one man waved two pistols and announced: "This is a holdup. Stand where you are."

Bank Employees Comply

Three bank employees, four customers and a stationery salesman complied. The other man, carrying a sack and a gun, vaulted the railing and entered the cage with a demand that Simms open the safe.

When Simms said the safe was open.

Shooting Peacock Is Expensive Sport Hunter Finds Out

BAY CITY, Mich., July 23—(P)—Farmer August Dorr, Jr., lost a prized peacock and advertised the fact.

He received an anonymous letter containing $15 from a man who said he had shot the bird. The writer offered to pay more if the owner would give the value in another advertisement.

Dorr complied with a value of $50. Came a second letter with $35 and this note: "I'm going to study up on my bird types."

'Milk Route' Bill to be Signed Today

Driver's Financial Responsibility
Measure Also up

JEFFERSON CITY, July 23—(P)—A bill to set up a state aid system for rural Missouri roads, allowing the state to contribute up to $750 a mile, was to be signed today by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

The governor said he would sign the "Milk Route" bill this afternoon at a ceremony planned by state farm groups who sponsored the hard-fought measure.

Estimated to cost $2,000,000 a year for the first five years of its operation, the bill authorizes the legislature to appropriate the necessary amounts from Missouri's postwar reserve fund. No allotment has yet been made.

To Establish Standards
Standards for the roads, including school bus, mail and milk routes, would be established by the state highway commission and a committee of five county judges to be appointed by the governor. The state would match county funds up to $750 a mile for the projects.

Sponsors of the legislation have described it as a way to get rural Missouri out of the mud since the program is aimed only at routes outside of the state supplementary system.

Also to be signed today was a drivers' financial responsibility act. It gives the state commissioner of motor vehicles the right to suspend drivers' licenses if they fail to satisfy judgments in automobile accident damage actions.

Must Prove Responsibility

Proof of financial responsibility could be shown in three ways: By filing a certificate with the vehicle commissioner showing ownership of a standard $10,000-$5,000-$1,000 liability insurance policy; by filing a bond payable to the state, or by depositing securities with the state treasurer valuable enough to meet the liability insurance requirements.

Thus the act would not directly require every driver to carry liability insurance, but after an accident he would have to show ability to pay for the damages if sued or lose his driver's license. Accrual of an insurance policy would be the easiest way out for most drivers.

Buyers' Strike
Is Threatened

LONDON, July 23—(P)—A buyers' strike threatened Britain's bread rationing program today and left ministry of food officials faced with the prospect of heavy losses of bakery products unless sales were permitted without ration coupons.

In West Scotland, housewives delayed their purchases until late afternoon in the hope that bread loaves and pastry would be sold off without coupons, but ration division food officials announced that there would be no relaxation of the rules.

A number of London bakeries sold cakes without coupons.

In northern Ireland the ministry of food set up 21 emergency distribution centers to provide supplies threatened by a strike of delivery men protesting against the extra work of collecting coupons.

Too Young to Carry a Gun

BOSTON, July 23—(P)—A 20-year-old marine veteran of the Pacific islands campaigns has been denied a permit to carry a revolver needed in his job as an armored car guard.

Police said Henry J. Donigan, who fought on Guadalcanal, Peleliu, Guam and Saipan, is one year too young. The law states specifically that no revolver permit can be issued to any person under 21.

Deface Statue of Liberty

NEW YORK, July 23—(P)—The Statue of Liberty was all wrapped up in a housekeeping controversy today.

C. F. Reynolds, of Toledo, president of the Monument Builders of America, Inc., told the directors in Chicago yesterday that the lady was "littered" and defaced with refuse and lipstick drawings and knife carvings.

He also said Miss Liberty's home on Bedloe's Island was a "grassless terrace littered with partly eaten fruit, sandwiches and soda bottles," adding that her present condition was a "tragic indictment of the American public and an indication of Washington's apathy toward one of the world's most famous shrines."

But Charles S. Marshall, superintendent of the Statue of Liberty, national monument, termed the statement regarding debris on the island a "gross exaggeration and misstatement of fact."

Marshall said "the lipstick point is entirely true," but added: "We have a plan for construction of a wire guard barrier to prevent that sort of defacement."

Revival OPA Bill Approved

House Votes 210
To 142; Measure
To Senate for Action Late Today

By Francis M. Le May

WASHINGTON, July 23—(P)—The House today approved the new compromise OPA revival bill.

The roll call vote was 210 to 142.

The action sent the measure, worked out in a Senate-House conference committee, to the Senate for action there.

The plan was to obtain a "re" action later this afternoon so that the measure, if finally approved, might go to the White House by night fall.

Walker Starts New Record in NBC Baseball

'Old' Nat'l League
Had 2 Such Games;
Four in Am. League

The "perfect" game Sunday of Bus Walker is the first such game pitched in the fifteen-year history of the National Semi-Pro baseball program. In fact it is one of the very few such games to be pitched in baseball, of which an official record was kept.

Ray Dumont, president of the National Baseball Congress, the "parent" of organized semi-pro baseball, wired the following message to the Democrat-Capital sports department: "Although there have been no-hit games, no perfect game ever hurled in 15-year history of program."

Major League Records
The records in major league baseball show that only six perfect games are on record, two in the National league and four in the American league and they date back to 1880. A perfect game is classified as: No hit game with no player reaching first base in nine innings. The information as given is published in the Sporting News record book.

The record:
1880 — John Richmond, Worcester vs. Cleveland, N. L. June 12—1-0; John Ward, Providence vs. Buffalo, N. L. June 17 a. m.
5-0.

1904 — Denton Young, Boston vs.
Philadelphia A. L. May 5 3-0.
1908 — Adrian Joss, Cleveland vs. Chicago A. L. Oct. 2 1-0.
1917 — Ernest Shore, Boston vs.
Washington A. L. June 23 (first game) 4-0.

1922 — Charles Robertson, Chicago vs. Detroit, A. L. April 30 2-0.

(Shore's game was declared a "perfect" game after a thorough examination of the records. Babe Ruth started as the Boston pitcher and was removed by Umphire Owens after giving a base on balls to Morgan, the first batter. Shore without warming up, took Ruth's place. Morgan was retired after trying to steal second. Only 26 batters faced him.
Not a hit was made, not a player reached first base. Not a base on balls was given and not an error was made behind the pitcher.)

Walker's Game Sunday
Walker's record in his Sunday game shows twenty-seven batters faced him. Not a batter reached first base. Not an error was made by his team mates. Not a hit was made by the opposing team, the A. G. Thomas Motors of Marshall. Walker won the game 3 to 0 with excellent support of his fellow team mates.

MoPac Eagles Stop Warrensburg Lions

The Missouri Pacific Eagles softball club defeated the War-rensburg Lions club team by a near shut-out score of 8 to 1 on Monday night at Liberty Park.
This was the first defeat of the season for the Warrensburg nine.

Behind the usual good pitching of Cozad and the errorless playing of the Sedalia club, the Mo-Pac club forced the game to be played out in fifty-five minutes. Cozad allowed only two hits out of the Warrensburg club in the entire seven innings of play. He also had six strikeouts marked to his credit. Satterwhite filled out the Eagle battery.

Keltner, second base, scored the only run of the evening for War-rensburg with a home run in the fourth inning. Wills, pitcher for

A lot of people pick the Chicago Cubs to repeat, and Charlie Grimm is doing his utmost to root the north siders in. Left, "Omigosh! Must they do this to me!" Next, "One away, but that's not bad with two to go." Then, "What's wrong? Can't you see what's going on?" The payoff, runner rounds third, base signals that he can score. "Skeddaddle!"

Williams First In Am. League Batting Derby

NEW YORK, July 22—(P)—
Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Johnny Hopp of the Boston Braves continued to pound the ball during the past week with the result that Williams took over first place in the American League's batting derby and Hopp increased his pace-setting National League margin ten points.

Including games of Sunday, Williams had collected 15 hits in 31 trips to the plate during the seven-day span to boost his average 12 points to 365 and replace Washington's Mickey Vernon as the top slugger in the Harbridge loop. Vernon, who virtually paced the circuit since the outset of the campaign, dropped to second with 357.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, July 23—(P)—The link between the current sports "boom" era and the "golden age" of the 1920's was just about completed when an Argentine polo team turned up on Long Island.
The game of polo definitely is associated with big dough, but a lot of plain people became fans when international polo was booming 15 or 20 years ago.
The Argentines were a symbol of what made the game popular—colorful hard-riding Latin characters with Celtic cognoms. . . . Of course, they came here mainly to build up their trade—breeding, training and selling polo ponies—but they put on a grand show in doing it.
The newly-arrived Argentine team,
El Trebol, is handicapped at 39 goals, just two below the maximum. Luis and Heriberto Duggan, who have played here before, and ten-goal players Carlos and Julio Menditeguy are so good, they've had to split up and play on teams with North Americans. . . . And this time they weren't selling horses; they disposed of their string in Mexico. . . . No doubt, in another year or so they'll be back to play for an international trophy and to sell their opponents some fancy-priced out burners. . . . A Mexican team is due here in September to get international matches started.

Rent Control
The Memphis Chicks of the Southern Association have a policy when they release or transfer a player who replaces him. . . . Under that plan, Pitcher Jim Volselle, brother of the Giants' Bill, had quarters awaiting him when he joined the Chicks. . . . The arrangement proved so satisfactory that Jim is marrying the daughter of the owner of the house.

In his amateur boxing days, middleweight champion Tony Zale once was sifted for Joe Louis. If Rocky Graziano whacks him a couple of times Thursday night, Tony may want Joe to return the favor.

Cardinals, Dodgers, Cubs, Out in Front

Begin Important Games in Race for N-L Pennant

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer) World series money will be dangling in front of the Cardinals, Dodgers and Cubs today as they open important engagements in the National league pennant race.

The Boston Red Sox are about
"in" if they can play .500 ball the rest of the way in the American league, but the senior circuit still is wide open. St. Louis and Brooklyn come east in an exact tie for first place with identical 53-34 records, and the defending champs from Chicago are only five games back and coming strong.

Inability to beat the lowly New York Giants consistently has been as embarrassing to the Cards as failure to top St. Louis has been to Brooklyn. Mel Ott's gang has trimmed the Red Birds 8 out of 13 and the Brooks have copied only 3 of 12 from Eddie Dyer's crew.

Cardinals Schedule

St. Louis, fresh from a successful home stand in which it beat the eastern visitors in 10 of 13 starts to pick up five full games on the faltering Dodgers, opens its next-to-last long road tour in the Polo Grounds. Three dates there, followed by another trio with the Braves in Boston leads directly to a July 30-31 and Aug.
1 set at Ebbets field.

With Howie Polletat, Murry Dickson and Harry Brecheen in top form and Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter blistering the fences, the Birds appear to have attained the form that prompted the "experts" to tab them as a "shoo-in" last March. After Brooklyn, St. Louis swings to Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Chicago on a complete tour of the circuit before returning home Aug. 15.

Chicago, like the Dodgers, has been plagued by failure to down St. Louis but has managed to stay in the race by picking out the Giants in 11 of 14 meetings.
They're all even with the Dodgers in 14 games and can't afford to drop the series opening in Brooklyn tonight.

Like Old Times
Memory of the early season bouts that pitted Lenny Merullo against Eddie Stanky and Dixie Walker of successive days points up the Chicago-Brooklyn series as one of the hot spots of the campaign.

A year ago today the Cards and Dodgers were tied—but not for the lead. They were deadlocked for second 4½ games behind the Cubs.

It's like old times in the American league with one club way out in front and the others scrambling for a piece of change.

Only this time it's Boston, not
New York, on the front end by 1½ games and threatening to make it more.

tion.

the purpose of Test Baker is not to provide a free spectacle

Act II of Bikini Drama Will Pack Bigger Wallop

USS Pensacola. Battered and burned by Test Able, it's going to take an even bigger licking this time.

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

OFF BIKINI—(NEA)—Many observers, both experts and laymen, who are returning to this atoll for the second act in the experimental drama of the atom, believe that if the first bomb had exploded closer to the target seven or eight ships might have been sunk on July 1.

There is no question about where the second bomb will explode. It will explode right at the target because it will be suspended there and can't get away.

And both the Navy and scientists insist that the second act of this scientific thriller called "Crossroads," for which the curtain is scheduled to rise July 25, will have more wallop than the first one and that it will be far more devastating than the air explosion.

This is logical even to the rank-and-file amateur in physical science who knows how far away a dynamite blast in water kills fish.

In the first test, five craft were sunk, of which only one, the inferior Japanese light cruiser Sakawa, was a capital ship. Two capital ships, the converted light carrier Independence and the heavy cruiser Pensacola, were seriously damaged.

In the second test, the bomb will be exploded from 18 to 180 feet below the surface, and at least four capital ships and four smaller craft should be sunk immediately or in a matter of hours after the explosion.

The eight ships that will be bunched around the spot where the bomb will go off are the old battleship Arkansas, the big carrier Saratoga, the already battered Pensacola, the old Jap battleship Nagato, and four secondary craft.

And if the second bomb should exceed the minimum requirement of surpassing the first one, the battered hulk of the Independence would be ruined beyond repair if not sunk, since they will be anchored next outside the most critical danger zone.

The official title for this forthcoming second act, incidentally, is "Test Baker."

That is simply the Navy's way of saying Test B, just as "Test Able" meant Test A, and "Test Charlie" will be next year's deepwater experiment, Test C.

Slaughter in Radio Talk Monday Night

Kem, GOP Candidate For U. S. Senator. Talks in Capital City

KANSAS CITY, July 23—(P)—Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, candidate for Democratic re-nomination in the fifth congressional district, described himself as a "liberal" in a radio campaign address last night.

"The term 'liberal' has been prostituted by those who urge the federal government to enter every possible field of human and individual endeavor," said the candidate who is opposed by President Truman.

"Far from being liberal, measures of this type (FEPC and the Wagner-Murray-Dingell 'socialized medicine' bill) are stamped with the oldest possible type of reaction. They stem from the reactionaries of the past who believe that the individual is not capable of looking out for himself and that consequently only the government is able to know what is good for him."

Fight to a Finish
The fight to determine whether the new-thinking state socialism exemplified by the CIO Political Action Committee shall dominate the Democratic party is under way and it must be fought to a finish.

The purpose of the FEPC was "truly liberal," he said, but the bill in the present form was "actually calculated to increase racial prejudice tenfold."

Meanwhile in Jefferson City, James P. Kem of Kansas City, Republican candidate for United States senator, asserted that President Truman's entry into the Fifth district primary was a sample of "dictatorial methods which the Truman administration is pursuing to transform American democracy into a controlled totalitarian economy."

Comments on Briggs
Noting that Senator Frank Briggs of Macon, Democratic candidate for renomination, had been endorsed by a citizens political action committee recently, Kem said he would not accept PAC support because "I am entirely lacking in ambition to be the 'kept candidate' of the notorious Pendergast-PAC machine."

Endorsement Given Briggs

ST. LOUIS, July 23—(P)—Senator Frank P. Briggs, candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination in the coming primary, was given the endorsement of the liberal voters' league at a meeting here last night.

The endorsement was based on Briggs' voting record in the senate and his answers to a questionnaire sent out by the league. Briggs addressed the meeting briefly, expressing regret that "people who will be most affected by current issues are apathetic to a degree that is deplorable."

Arno J. Haack, executive secretary of the YMCA-YWCA at the Washington university, was installed as president of the league. He succeeded Leonard Hall, newspaper columnist, who resigned recently, charging the league was being used by radical organizations for purposes of their own.

Bill Pending To Set Up 'Fight Cancer' Program

By James Marlow
WASHINGTON, July 23—(P)—One American dies of cancer every three minutes, twenty every hour. Of the 135,000,000 Americans now living, 500,000 have cancer and 17,000,000 eventually will die of it.

Which means: 1 of every 8 Americans living now will die of cancer.

Cancer deaths are increasing. In 1900 cancer was 9th on the list of killers. Now it's second. Only heart disease kills more people.

About 175,000 people in this country die of cancer yearly.

In World War II about 273,000 Americans died in action. In the years 1942 through 1944 about 500,000 Americans died of cancer.

These figures come from sponsors of a bill, now in congress, to have the government put up $100,000,000 to fight cancer by searching for its cause and cure.

The money would be spent over a number of years, not in one year.

For the amount of money involved, the bill is astonishingly brief and vague. It is deliberately vague. For not mention any organization—private or governmental—as the one to receive the money and do the job.

To Set Up Program
It would let President Truman set up a program for the cancer fight by calling on the world's cancer experts for help.

This means he could call upon the specialists of any country.

But congress, rushing to get home in a couple of weeks, may not find time to consider the bill this year. Yet, it seems a real effort will be made to get action.

A stream of witnesses—doctors, individuals and heads of organizations fighting cancer—went before committees of the house and senate to back the bill.

Both committees approved it. Now it is up to the full house and senate to act.

The bill was introduced in the house by Rep. Neely, West Virginia Democrat, who for more than 30 years has sought government help in the cancer fight. A duplicate bill was offered in the senate.

Rep. Sol Bloom, New York Democrat and chairman of the foreign affairs committee which okayed the house bill, said he would do all he can to get congress to vote on it.

Sponsors of the bill consider $100,000,000 not too much for the government to spend, especially since it would be spent over a number of years.

The senate committee which approved the bill in that chamber called the amount "infinitesimal."

Backers of the measure point out that this country spent $2,000,000,000 to develop the atomic bomb and $221,000,000 a day to fight World War II.

They emphasize that when this country wanted to find an atomic bomb it pulled its scientific brains and came up with a quick answer.

So they think this country's best brains should be pooled, with government help, to lick cancer.

But they warn that finding the cause and cure of cancer will be a vastly harder job than creating an atomic bomb.

ST. LOUIS, July 23—(P)—The Rev. Joseph W. MacDonald, 74, former pastor of the Central Baptist church of Kansas City, died Saturday night at the home of his son, Joseph, in suburban Overland. He had been ill a year. Funeral services were held yesterday.

A native of Pittsford, N. Y., the Rev. MacDonald had held ministerial assignments in the middle west about 50 years. He retired from the Kansas City pastorate five years ago.

Besides his son, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Pearl MacDonald, of 4242 Belfontaine, Kansas City, and a daughter, Mrs. Otto T. Blanke, of Joplin, and five grandchildren.

Police court proceedings this morning were as follows:

B. G. Hill, fined $10 on a charge of drunkenness, paid $5 and was given a stay on the remainder.

"Bunk" Townsend, of the Miller hotel, arrested for intoxication, was fined $10.

Billie Rogers and Jack Bryson, charged with adultery, pleaded guilty in the court of W. E. Scott, ex-officio justice of the peace, and were fined $20 and costs each, a total of $59.20.

Resumes Duties at Shops
E. L. Ellsworth has resumed his duties as clerk in the production department of the local Missouri Pacific shops, after a week's vacation.

NEW YORK, July 23—(P)—Stocks dropped 1 to 6 points today in the face of the sharpest market relapses of the year with selling among the heaviest of the past two months.

The slide eventuated after a slightly improved and quiet opening. At the close of the first hour pressure became so intense that the high speed ticker tape, for the first time since May 10, fell as much as 2 minutes behind actual transactions for a brief interval. The pace then slackened and a few comebacks appeared. While extreme losses were reduced here and there at the close, many issues emerged at or around the bottom. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 1,800,000 shares, one of the best turnovers since the latter part of 1932.

Prominent on the tumble were Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Chesapeake and Ohio, Great Northern, S. Rubber, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Eastern Kodak, Kennecott, American Electric Power and Light and Hiram Walker.

No outstanding news accounted for the release.

Bonds were lower with rails in supply.

Grain Futures Sag
CHICAGO, July 23—(P)—Grain futures, with the exception of the July contract in oats, sagged heavily today under a government estimate of record corn and oats crops.

Corn was off more than 2 cents a bushel at time and while the July contract in oats, in which trading ended today, was up around 2 cents, deferred deliveries were off as much as 3 cents. Barley was weak and the November delivery traded at 1/4 cent below former ceiling prices.

At the close corn was 1 1/2 to 2 cents lower than yesterday's close. January $1.45 1/2. Oats were 1 1/2 cent higher to 1 1/2 cent lower. July $2.00. Barley was 1/2 cent lower, November $1.35 1/2.

Retired Minister Dies

ST. LOUIS, July 23—(P)—The Rev. Joseph W. MacDonald, 74, former pastor of the Central Baptist church of Kansas City, died Saturday night at the home of his son, Joseph, in suburban Overland. He had been ill a year. Funeral services were held yesterday.

A native of Pittsford, N. Y., the Rev. MacDonald had held ministerial assignments in the middle west about 50 years. He retired from the Kansas City pastorate five years ago.

Besides his son, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Pearl MacDonald, of 4242 Belfontaine, Kansas City, and a daughter, Mrs. Otto T. Blanke, of Joplin, and five grandchildren.

Police Court Proceedings
Police court proceedings this morning were as follows:

One-dollar overtime parking bonds were forfeited by W. E. Staley, 109 West Ninth street; J. E. Scroggs, 1211 East Eighth street; and R. G. Fletcher, of out of town.

B. G. Hill, fined $10 on a charge of drunkenness, paid $5 and was given a stay on the remainder.

"Bunk" Townsend, of the Miller hotel, arrested for intoxication, was fined $10.

Billie Rogers and Jack Bryson, charged with adultery, pleaded guilty in the court of W. E. Scott, ex-officio justice of the peace, and were fined $20 and costs each, a total of $59.20.

Resumes Duties at Shops
E. L. Ellsworth has resumed his duties as clerk in the production department of the local Missouri Pacific shops, after a week's vacation.

NEW YORK, July 23—(P)—Stocks dropped 1 to 6 points today in the face of the sharpest market relapses of the year with selling among the heaviest of the past two months.

The slide eventuated after a slightly improved and quiet opening. At the close of the first hour pressure became so intense that the high speed ticker tape, for the first time since May 10, fell as much as 2 minutes behind actual transactions for a brief interval. The pace then slackened and a few comebacks appeared. While extreme losses were reduced here and there at the close, many issues emerged at or around the bottom. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 1,800,000 shares, one of the best turnovers since the latter part of 1932.

Prominent on the tumble were Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Chesapeake and Ohio, Great Northern, S. Rubber, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Eastern Kodak, Kennecott, American Electric Power and Light and Hiram Walker.

No outstanding news accounted for the release.

Bonds were lower with rails in supply.

Grain Futures Sag
CHICAGO, July 23—(P)—Grain futures, with the exception of the July contract in oats, sagged heavily today under a government estimate of record corn and oats crops.

Corn was off more than 2 cents a bushel at time and while the July contract in oats, in which trading ended today, was up around 2 cents, deferred deliveries were off as much as 3 cents. Barley was weak and the November delivery traded at 1/4 cent below former ceiling prices.

At the close corn was 1 1/2 to 2 cents lower than yesterday's close. January $1.45 1/2. Oats were 1 1/2 cent higher to 1 1/2 cent lower. July $2.00. Barley was 1/2 cent lower, November $1.35 1/2.

Pay Dirt in the Big Mud dy

Boontowns Boom in North Dakota At the Missouri's Biggest Dam Site

Silver City, whose "Main Street" you see above, and Big Bend, whose city center is the wheat bin and sign below at right, are two of the Big Muddy's boom towns that are springing up along the access road to the big Garrison Dam project in North Dakota.

In a few months, fan dancers: This is the Four Aces night club at Coleharbor, N. D., 16 miles from the Garrison Dam, whose proprietors promise glittering nights as their towns expand in the onslaught of construction workers for Missouri Basin projects.

Editor's Note: This is the second of four dispatches on the government's tremendous program to harness the Missouri River—a program that forecasts a Missouri Valley Authority 13 times the size of the TVA.)

By Ed Hoffman
NEA Staff Correspondent
BIG BEND, N. D., (NEA)

—Boom towns modern western style, with electricity and running water, are going up with a rush around this part of North Dakota. Not gold, not oil, but water and plenty of it is bringing in promoters, speculators and "sharpies."

Beyond the converted wheat bin liquor stores, night clubs and so-called "homesites" that make up the new town of Big Bend is the Missouri river. Stand on the bluffs overlooking the Big Muddy and you'll see an engineer's target flag fluttering in the ever-present wind across the stream. You're looking across what one day will be Garrison dam, the world's largest earth-filled water blockade.

Army engineers under Brig. Gen. Lewis A. Pick had no sooner started back to Omaha, headquarters for the nation's biggest peacetime project, than the boys moved in. To them the Big Muddy has a golden gleam.

When you build something like Garrison you have to spend money. You pay wages to the men who build the dam. The workers pay that money out to live and to be entertained. The more men, the more money spent. North Dakota unions already have asked hourly wages of $1 for common labor, $1.40 for carpenters, $1.25 for painters and $1.10 for truck drivers. Garrison will cost about $161,000,000. So the promoters got here early.

Three boomtowns already are being constructed along the 10-mile access road leading from U. S. Highway 83 to the east bank of the Missouri, about 70 miles north of Bismark, North Dakota.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES
THE QUESTION IN MY MIND, MR. MELCROFT, IS WHAT'S THE CONNECTION BETWEEN THE MURDER OF STILL AND THE PICTURE OF YOUR DAUGHTER IN HIS POCKET?
WELL, THERE'S AN EXPLANATION SOMEWHERE. COULD I TALK WITH YOUR DAUGHTER MARCIA?
I'M AFRAID NOT, MARCIA IS—AH—OUT OF TOWN. EXCUSE ME JUST A MOMENT.
I HAVEN'T THE SLIGHTEST IDEA.

WASH TUBS
IN MY YEARS ON THE FORCE, THAT IS THE MOST COCK-EYED EXPLANATION EVER I LISTENED TO...AND NOT ONE FACT VERIFIED!

THE MORE JIMMIE TRIES TO EXPLAIN HIS SITUATION, THE MORE INCREDIBLE IT SOUNDS...

WASH TUBS
OF COURSE I'VE SUNK PLINY IN THAT GADGET, AND IT COSTS A STAGGERING SUM TO RUN!

WASH TUBS
I KNEW I COULD COUNT ON YOU—AND YOU'RE GOING TO HAVE TO GO TO WORK, TOO—ONLY THERE'S PROBABLY A BIG DIFFERENCE IN OUR OPINIONS AS TO WHAT CONSTITUTES WORK!

WASH TUBS
GEE! IS THAT AS BAD AS ALL THAT?

WASH TUBS
GEE! IS THAT AS BAD AS ALL THAT?

Secretary to the Board of Registrars (SEAL) of the City of Sedalia, Missouri.

The Daily Washington
Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON, July 23—While the entire nation waited for congress to make up its mind on the vital question of price control, the fact was that the house conferees angrily walked out of one meeting in protest against the absence of two senators.

One was Majority Leader Alben Barkley of Kentucky who failed to show up at all for one afternoon session and left in the middle of the next day's session for a trip out of town.

Barkley's excuse for the first absence was "important business on the floor." However, when house conferees learned that the business was a silver bill and an equal rights measure, they blew up and disgustedly stalked out of the meeting.

The other absentee was lame-duck George Radcliffe of Maryland. House Chairman Brent Spence of Kentucky sharply criticized the "lack of cooperation" of the two senators, aiming his ire chiefly at Barkley, who had been counted on to spearhead the fight for senate recess on the controversial Taft "guaranteed profits" amendment and the de-control of food products.

"Here we are discussing the economy of the entire nation," caustically remarked another house spokesman. "It seems to me that this is more important than silver or an equal rights bill. We don't produce more than $25,000,000 worth of silver annually."

Taft Stands Pat
House members walked out after OPA champions talked themselves blue trying to make Bob Taft of Ohio and other senate conferees back down on the guaranteed profits provision and food de-controls. Liberal GOP Senator Charles Tobey of New Hampshire, was expected to stand by the OPA, but he remarked:

"I intend to support the senate bill. I have no other alternative since the senate has voted for it."

Showing up the next day's meeting, Barkley promised better attendance after Spence called him to task for being AWOL.

"We can't get along without you, Alben," said his fellow Kentuckian. "I know you are aware of what is at stake here. We must agree on an OPA bill that the president will sign. I shudder to think of the indescribable train of evils that will result if we don't."

California Oil Rush
The issue which helped defeat Ed Pauley for undersecretary of navy — tide-water oil lands — is coming up in the senate again, with Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada doing his best to jam the bill through before congress adjourns.

The bill would give the 48 states title to submerged oil lands under the ocean-bed rather than letting the supreme court decide whether they belong to the states or the federal government.

Meanwhile, Attorney General Bob Kenny of California has done some of the most adroit legal stalling in years. He and the justice department have been in a race to see whether he could get the tidelands oil bill passed by congress before the justice department could get the question before the supreme court. It now looks as if Kenny has won. Here is how he did it:

Last winter, when both California and the justice department were to file briefs before the supreme court, Kenny petitioned the court for two months delay. This was granted.

When the two months expired, Kenny filed one of the longest briefs in history. It was three volumes thick and 822 pages long. It is customary to make supreme court briefs what the name implies—brief and to the point.

Prolix Mr. Kenny
So the justice department, indignant at Kenny's 822-page volume, filed one of the rarest of legal motions. It called upon the supreme court to strike the California answer on the ground that it was "prolix" and so muddled that it was "virtually impossible to segregate the well-pleaded facts for the purpose of determining the issues."

In citing reasons for asking the supreme court to strike the California answer, solicitor general Howard McGrath went all the way back to a decision handed down by a British court in 1596 — the case of Richard Mylward. Mylward had filed a brief before the British court amounting to "six-score sheets of paper," and the British judges were so outraged over this long document that they fined Mylward and further ordered:

"The warden shall bring him into Westminster hall on Saturday next, about ten of the clock in the forenoon, and then and there shall cut a hole in the myddest of the same engrossed replication (brief) and put the said Richard's head through same hole. . . . And then, the same so hanging, shall lead the same Richard, bare-headed and bare-faced, round about Westminster hall, whilst the courts are sitting and shall shew him at the bar of every of the three courts within the hall."

Solicitor General McGrath did not exactly say so, but he implied that California's attorney general Kenny should have a hole cut in his 822-page brief, and be paraded around the supreme court building with the brief around his neck.

Indignant Mr. Kenny, however, replied that the justice department's motion would deprive the great state of California of its legal rights.

Finally Justice Hugo Black called in both Kenny and McGrath and gave the state of California a rebuke. He told Kenny he considered McGrath's motion proper and justified. Were the state of California not involved, he said the court probably would grant the motion to strike the 822-page answer. Since a state was involved, however, he said

General Duty Nurse

By LUCY AGNES HANCOCK

XXXIV
SALLY had drawn night duty on another special case and was still in bed one afternoon when Bess Hamilton dropped in to her room.

She sat up and reached for a robe and slippers. "Stay here, if you like, while I shower," she told her caller. "I won't be more than a minute. I want to take a long walk before I go back on duty. It seems good to have the sun shine again, doesn't it?"

"It's only 3 o'clock, Sally," Bess pointed out when the girl returned. "Why not come over to the lake with me for a swim? I'm on call tonight and we can be back in plenty of time to change."

"Okay," Sally nodded. "I'm game. Stuff my swim suit in the bag there and I'll be ready in a jiffy."

A few minutes later the two nurses reached the bus stop at the foot of Main Street hill. The sun was warm on their bare heads and there was little or no shade on that corner.

A shabby coupe slipped down the hill and stopped for a red light. Sally tried to make herself invisible with little success for the car door opened and a voice called:

"Hi, there! Going somewhere, you two? Hop in and I'll take you."

"We're going to the lake, Doctor," Bess answered, and waved him on his way. But he lingered. "Sweet! That's where I'm bound. Hop in. That bus will be crowded to its doors and probably won't be along for an hour."

MUCH against her better judgment, Sally followed Bess

Hamilton into Jim Hallock's battered car. The seat was wide but Miss Hamilton was plump and there was barely room for the three; but they reached the lake much more quickly than if they had waited for the bus. Doctor Hallock parked his car and the three walked the short distance to the beach.

"Why, there's Holden!" Bess exclaimed as she espied Norma in a brief bathing suit talking to a young man. "I hope she doesn't see us in your company, Doctor," she laughed. "I just don't trust that baby."

"Let her do her worst," muttered Jim Hallock, casting an inquiring glance at Sally. "You're not afraid of her, are you, Sally?"

"I don't know why I should be," Sally told him not quite truthfully. "Oh, isn't that Doctor Bacon? What is she doing here? I thought they had gone to the mountains for the summer."

Carolyn Bacon caught sight of them and hurried forward. "Jim, you're darling to bring them!" she cried enthusiastically. "This is wonderful! You know, Sally, Mother and I have taken the Sloane cabin for the season and just now we're all alone. I'm so glad you came. We have a fine beach and we can have a picnic supper later—hot hamburgers and coffee or ice cold ginger ale—whatever you prefer. Sound attractive?"

"Wonderful!" Sally said. The Sloane cabin proved to be rather large and rambling, tree shaded and with a private beach adjoining that of an exclusive club. Wide screened porches extended all round it while inside were all the comforts of home.

he would let the answer stand. Kenny went out on his main strategy, however — to stall for time. The tide-water oil lands case now will not come up for argument until fall and meanwhile Senator McCarran is pressing for action. If his bill passes, it will take the question out of the hands of the supreme court.

Note — Despite Ed Pauley, President Truman will veto the tide-water lands bill, if passed. He believes the supreme court should decide a matter of such great importance.

Capital Chaff
Foreign investors in the USA have started a flight from the dollar. As a result of the senate's OPA action, they figure on real inflation and are selling out their stocks and commodities. Tip off is the way the Swedish krona, Swiss franc and Canadian dollar all have gone up at the expense of the dollar. . . . One of the country's most interesting veterans' races will take place in Texas this week between Price Daniel, an ex-GI, and Pat Neff, Jr., an ex-major, both running for attorney general. Daniel resigned as speaker of the Texas legislature to enlist as a private, served overseas, came out a sergeant. Neff, son of a former governor, joined up as a captain, served in the judge advocate general's office in Washington, came out a major. It will be interesting to see whether the major or the sergeant wins out. . . . Senator McKellar of Tennessee, who has been denouncing the CIO and his opponent for being backed by the CIO, found himself very red-faced the other day. He had forgotten that he had written CIO leaders asking for their support.

Sally immediately fell in love with the place and Carolyn urged her to make use of it whenever it was possible. Bess and Mrs. Bacon found they had a great deal to discuss and Carolyn was suddenly busy preparing for the picnic supper. So Sally, eager to take advantage of this rare opportunity to swim, changed quickly and dived from the edge of the long pier.

She wasn't aware she was being followed and drew herself up on the float where she lay on her back with closed eyes, breathing in the invigorating piney air while the sun poured new life into her body.

"MIND if I join you?" Jim Hallock asked as he slid down beside her on the swaying float. "Gosh I'm tired! I've had only three hours' sleep since night before last. What a life!"

"And I was just thinking how wonderful it is," Sally laughed. She waved a comprehensive hand to include their surroundings. "All this—"

"—and Heaven too—with you here beside me," the young man murmured. "I should like to stay right here indefinitely. Why go back at all, Sally?"

"Not even for hamburgers and coffee, Doctor?" she teased. "I like to hear you laugh, Sally," he told her, raising himself on one elbow to look into her face. "You're going to get a fine sun-burn."

Sally laughed again. Somehow she felt light and carefree. "How quickly you change from the real to the practical, Doctor Hallock," she chided. Silence, blissful and satisfying, prevailed for some time. Then, "But I'm afraid we're not being very appreciative guests, are we, coming off here by ourselves like this? There's Bess waiting to us. She hasn't even been in and it was she who suggested coming here."

"Why can't you always be like this, Sally?" he asked.

"Like what?" she countered and was away before he could answer.

"Aunt Lizzie" Devers Found Dead At Home

"Too Tough To Die" Meets Death At Advanced Age of 115

SAPULPA, Okla., July 23.—(P)—"Aunt Lizzie" Devers, 115, who once said she was too tough to die because "I'm Cherokee, Irish and Dutch and that's the meanest mixture that is," was found dead Monday in the little home where she lived alone.

She celebrated her 115th birthday last May. Only a few months ago she took an airplane ride.

"Aunt Lizzie" in her youth walked with the Cherokees from Georgia over the "Trail of Tears," went through Indian territory before the turn of the century selling pioneer medicines and once ran a 160-acre farm single-handed.

Two years ago a car knocked her down and cracked several bones. Her doctor looked her over and warned her she's never live to see another birthday.

Too Tough To Die
It was then she said she was too tough to die.

"I've had nine husbands, been snake bit six times and been bit by a mad dog once and that didn't kill me, so I guess I'll live through this, too."

"Aunt Lizzie" didn't believe in divorces. She outlived all nine husbands.

Mrs. Eva Jolen, a friend of long standing, discovered the body. She said it appeared the widely publicized Sapulpa collapsed as she attempted to rise from her bed. The bed was occupied, Mrs. Jolen said, by a large plastic frog.

Son Was 100
A son, Henry Pinkman, whose age "Aunt Lizzie" always reported as an even 100, was working at a brick plant when the body was found.

"Aunt Lizzie" only recently returned from a Tulsa hospital, where she was taken after a cow kicked her. Mrs. Jolen told reporters she must have had a premonition of death, since she told her at the hospital that "I'm going this time, and I want to get out of here."

"Aunt Lizzie" attributed her long life to "minding my own business and having plenty of business to mind."

United States To Get More Cuban Sugar

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(P)—Terms of the sugar agreement, signed in Havana this week and disclosed here Monday by officials who cannot be named assured American consumers more than 3,900,000 tons of Cuban sugar in 1947. This is almost 500,000 tons more than in 1946.

The agreement also protects Cuba against inflation in the United States.

The pact settled one-year-old negotiations for the U. S. purchase of the 1946 and 1947 Cuban sugar crops. This year's crop has been shipped to the United States under an interim contract.
